

Skilled Nursing Facilities Preference

Some people may not be ready to return home at the time of discharge from the hospital. A Skilled Nursing Facility may be the appropriate option for continued therapy or skilled nursing care. You will need to have been hospitalized as an inpatient three midnights before you can be considered for admittance to a skilled facility. This type of care will require orders from your healthcare provider.

Following the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, DRH Health wants to assure you that you have choices in selecting a provider of skilled nursing facilities. The facilities listed on the back of this sheet have indicated that they are currently accepting new patients.
